RE: Shelf life extension of WildBrew Philly Sour™ – Lot 46005230127774V

Dear valued customer,

After several rounds of testing confirming that the product's viability and performance is still as expected when used as intended for beer production, we confidently increased the shelf life of our WildBrew Philly Sour™ from 2 to 3 years in July 2022.

Current stocks of WildBrew Philly Sour™ in 11g sachets, lot number 46005230127774V are, however, set to expire at the end of May 2023, as reflected by the expiry date printed on the sachets themselves and display labels. This lot was packaged before the shelf life increase, but we are confident that shelf life of this specific lot can be extended by 12 months until the end of May 2024, providing the product is stored under recommended conditions and the packaging integrity has not been compromised.

Thank you for using WildBrew Philly Sour™. If you have any additional questions or require any further assistance in this matter, please contact your local sales representative.
